AN OPPORTUNITY TO INVEST IN A TRULY MAGNIFICENT LIMITED EDITION

THE ART OF LEO & DIANE DILLON

For 25 years, the names of Leo and Diane Dillon have been synonymous with fine illustration. They have won nearly every major award in the field, including the Hugo Award for Best Science Fiction Artists. Ray Bradbury...Harlan Ellison...these are just two of the famous authors whose work has been visually translated by the Dillons.

The Art of Leo and Diane Dillon features over 120 illustrations, including 48 color plates. Dozens of sketches and comments by the Dillons trace the evolution of their techniques. An introduction by Harlan Ellison and an article by Byron Preiss provide a close-up look at the Dillons as graphic and decorative artists.

The limited, signed, and numbered hardcover edition of The Art of Leo and Diane Dillon will be a magnificent collector's edition. Only one hundred copies of this elegantly designed book will be issued. Each copy of the signed and numbered limited edition will be bound in heavy cloth covers, embossed in gold with the Dillons' private seal. Illustrated endpapers, specially designed by the Dillons, will be featured in the front and back of the book. A special page in the front of every deluxe copy will be signed and numbered by the Dillons. Every hardcover will be inserted into a handmade matching heavy cloth slipcase. In addition, every copy of the book will be accompanied by a beautiful full-color print, prepared only for this edition and signed and numbered by the Dillons.

Prints by the Dillons have sold for seventy-five dollars. The lavish collector's edition and the signed print are available for seventy-five dollars. This limited edition will not be available in these bookstores and is strictly limited to five hundred copies.

Please send me _____ copies of the signed and limited edition of The Art of Leo and Diane Dillon, including slipcase and limited signed print. I enclose seventy-five dollars per copy.

Illustration by Allan Jones & Mike

Christmas. A time for those who believe, truly with all their hearts, that there is a Santa Claus a round, jolly man who can fit through the eye of a needle, red suit, white beard, reindeer, sleigh, no strings attached. What a lovely fantasy to grow up believing in, and what a horrible realization when your big brother says it isn't so.

Heavy Metal is for people who still believe in that bearded man. Those who still wish they don't tell, when they blow out candles on a cake. For those who wish upon a star.

Within the pages of Heavy Metal one can become anything one chooses. A human eagle with wings the size of elephant ears. A Chandler-esque private eye who longs for a cool martini, a bottle of bourbon, and the occasional break. Or a swashbuckling pirate who commandeers castles. All of these destinies are as real to some as breathing is. The ability to let oneself loose, to imagine without a moderator's hesitation, to "fly through the air with the greatest ease."

In our society we must make a painful transition from childhood to adulthood. No more flowers. Decide time. Goodnight, Mr. Tiff. Curse puberty, we are supposed to shed our fantasies as easily as we stepped out of those frilly and baseball caps.

Storytelling has been a cultural mainstay throughout the ages. Minstrels performed for the young and old, and there was no condescension on the part of the adults who traveled in the minstrel's sprocket. Alice in Wonderland has been enjoyed by "kids of all ages," and its creation as adult bookshelves has never been questioned.

But we're in the eighties now. Kids are growing up faster than they ever have before. They often replace Jack and Jill with pimps and joe by the time they've reached twelve, without looking back. And perhaps it's because of this that adults have become cynical and unwilling to be make-believe.

If we can bring you just a little closer to the days of Peter Pan and the Green Hornet (Cinderella would never get a glass slipper if you saw a magazine for Dolls first so you must be doing something right.

As far as I'm concerned, Alice really did walk through that looking glass.

. . . BUT MAKE SURE YOU'RE WEARING THE RIGHT OUTFITS!

Imagine this. You and your mate are sitting around in your torn T-shirts from Camp Sequoia days, watching old "Lost in Space" reruns.

Suddenly, one of you screams, "HEY! WHERE'S THE FUN IN THIS?" So you pull out the ol' EC horrors, jump into your new Heavy Metal jackets and/or T's, and you're in seventh heaven.

Heavy Metal is offering, just in time for Christmas, the newest in fantasy wear. This lovely silver, satinlike jacket is equipped with a cotton lining . . . and front pockets, too. Our original HM T-shirt is also available.

So order today! Pick up a few for stocking stuffers, too.

Dear Heavy Metallers,

I've just come back from seeing the Heavy Metal movie for the third time, and my mind with the explosive sound track is mind-blowing! I also should be forgot to praise Reitman

I also would like to say a few things about the MPAA. They are full of shit! I've read that scenes had to be cut from the movie because the Association was wagging its X-rating at the film's face. Also when I went to see the film I was confronted with. To see Heavy Metal, must have ID for over 17. Since I'm only fourteen, practically had to bribe a guy to get him to say he was my father. In the past, the magazine evolved into a slick underground. While normally this would be a complaint, it isn't intended as such. As you know well, the readers of your magazine (I hope) are not morons or neurotic "hippies" looking for quick kicks; they are serious people expecting their dose of serious literature and serious comics. The appearance of a writer of William Burroughs's stature can only add important significance to HM's potential weight. There simply is no reason why anyone admitted enough to collect Esquire, Charles Bukowski's poetry, or Time or Mother Jones or Rolling Stone should feel slighted by a two-dollar outlay.

In the past several issues of Heavy Metal the said pamphlet has reared its ugly head, as it should. The current HM is Stravinsky's Firebird rising.

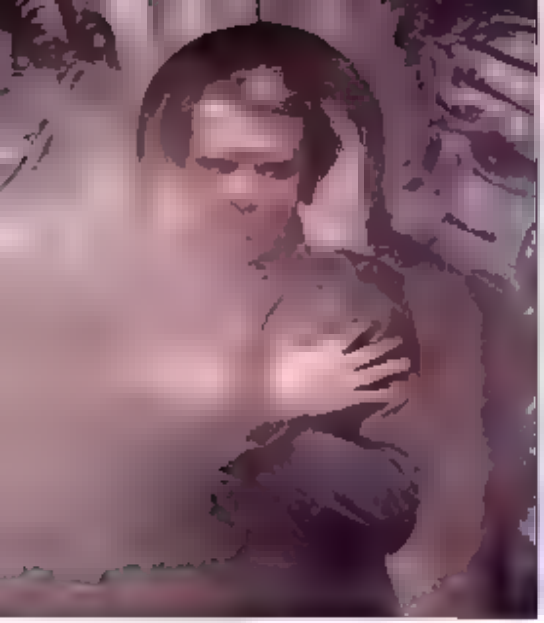
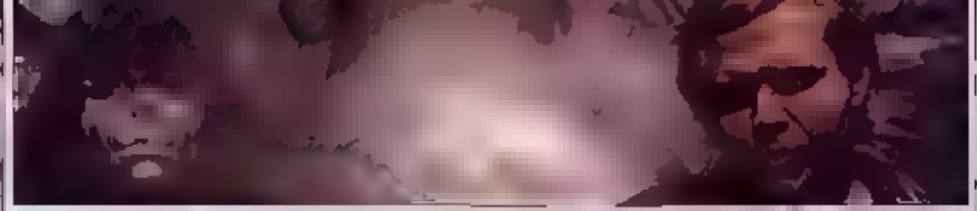
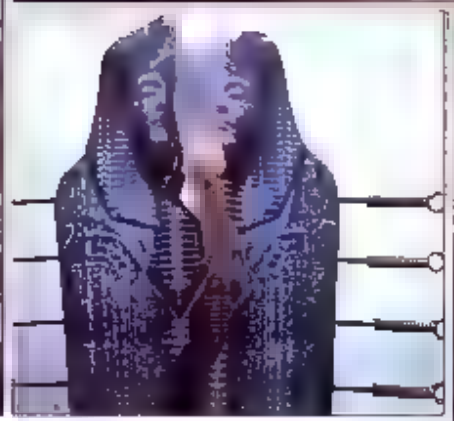
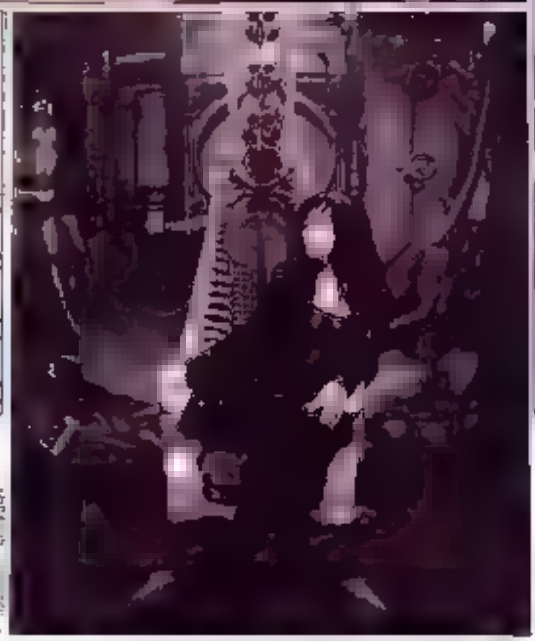
STRANGE ENCOUNTERS OF THE SWISS KIND

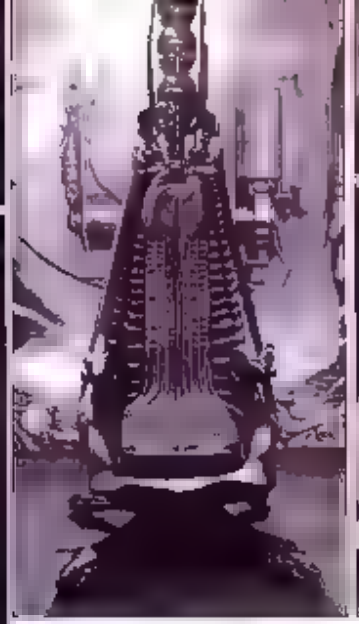
by Deborah Harry and Chris Stein











Top left to right: Cage stands menacing in the cave. Pentagram on part of the temple used in Alice. Snow job. Snow leap, zebra in cover makeup with Cage. Sarcophagus and needles used in Blackbird. Debbie looking perfectly Morocco-hot with a black wig and bone colored chair designed by Cage. Cage's ebony version (one was bought by Debbie and Chris). Are you boys from around here? asks Mr Harry

...ading. If Cage were queer he would not laugh when he would bare his teeth and run across his Alien model in the dark.

When Kiss Kiss came out there was the same response as around. But not to what was never being banned by British Rail' asked an English journalist during a phone interview while we were in Switzerland. That was the first we heard of the reaction. Then another British station banned the video from television. The explanation it was too disturbing.

We knew the video would cause problems but maybe were overconfident. It never occurred to us to believe it would actually be taken as art. It was a risk we were willing to take.

Risk-taking was something we have been familiar with. We were very conscious of what was involved. It is a matter of having style more than anything else, something Cage calls stasis and possesses as well. When we began doing what we're doing we didn't look in terms of how naive we thought of having a sense of style. Having style meant not walking with the crowd but being either a bit forward or behind it. When we started out we were called a new-wave act because we did visitors pop material rather than the get-down-and-boogie stuff which was popular then. We did the opposite of what was current and we've never stopped doing it. It's the only option.

Cage also plays with opposites that's the essence of his work. In a philosophy called aleatoric music, taken the use of opposites makes things stand out and be challenging. What is beautiful and horrible, appealing and frightening, whatever draws you in and repels, biological and organic or organic's own vision of all related. Even in music production it's the same combination of opposites of working with machines, reproduced human gasps, sounds of music.

Ever since we met Cage at the Bauhaus gallery in New York nearly two years ago we've thought of working together. Similar lives, our science fiction, skulls and pagan architypes forged an immediate union. We emailed Cage to invite him to the late shows when it was the last European psychedelic-sprayer artist. Then we knew of him as the artist of Alien. And we found out that Cage began learning to draw while working on Alien in England. Our synchronicity didn't halt but as we communicated we became aware of each other.

So when the decision was made to do the album over a seven call was made arrangements were discussed and Cage was on the job. From a bleak shot by English photographer Brian Aris (from the last massive publishing package) to have never before been seen and will be in the next book) all he was always the beginning. We also felt we might have the privilege of making them made from two songs off the album and the above them.

When we walked in Zurich to do the artwork we didn't know what the finished image for was. But the theme was the temple a place for Cage's art with huge Egyptian paintings and objects. Cage was in the middle with a black dining table between and he was dressed with a marble-white sarcophagus and a gold pentagram. And also that sits a black bedchamber with chess figures upside down and eight sticks up his pagan.

Cage is an intellectual deceptive which is not apparent to all the universe. You only have to look at his... Even something as alien... [illegible] ...ed. Still The Alien venture with us. THERE IT IS THAT MIRROR? DON'T PLAY GAMES, HOLY MAN I'M LOOKING FOR GOLD THE KIND OF GOLD IT TAKES TO RUN A PLACE LIKE THIS.
THERE IS NO GOLD HERE BANDIT THIS TEMPLE IS BUT AN ILLUSION A CREATION OF MY IMAGINATION, A REFLECTION OF MY DREAMS
I'LL CUT YOUR TONGUE OUT BEFORE I'LL LISTEN TO THAT PIOUS CRAP NOW TELL ME—
I'VE TOLD YOU THAT MIRROR IS THE TREASURE GIVEN ME BY GOBUJO IT IS NO ORDINARY MIRROR IT HAS THE POWER TO REFLECT A MAN'S DREAMS AND BRING THEM TO LIFE WITH IT I FORMED THIS TEMPLE

BUT I THINK THAT ONE SUCH AS YOU SHOULD NOT GAZE INTO IT
YOU DO, EH? AND WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT ONE SUCH AS ME AND MY DREAMS? YOU'RE LIKE ALL THE REST OF THE GUTLESS PEASANTS SCARED OF LIFE, SCARED OF DEATH
BUT I'M AFRAID OF NOTHING AND NO ONE
I'VE GOT THE GUTS TO DREAM BIG DREAMS
REAL DREAMS
I'LL BE DAMNED
THE OLD FOOL TOLD THE TRUTH
IT'S JUST AS I'VE ALWAYS DREAMED! I'M A DAIMYO.. A GREAT LORD
ALL MY LIFE I'VE HAD NOTHING I COULD CALL MINE, NOTHING THAT LASTED.. BUT NOW I'VE GOT IT ALL
A PROSPEROUS KINGDOM STRETCHING AS FAR AS THE EYE CAN SEE

AND A MIGHTY FORTRESS FROM WHICH TO RULE!
IN MY TREASURY MORE GOLD THAN I COULD SPEND IN AN ETERNITY
SERVE ME AN ENDLESS ARMY OF SAMURAI SWORN TO TOTAL LOYALTY READY TO DIE AT MY COMMAND
COURTIERS AND NOBLES HAH LOOK AT THEM COWER BEFORE ME BE DOUBLY QUIET MOVEMENTS AFFAIRS OF STATE WAIT WHILE I HAVE MY DINNER

BIRD MEAT BEE LARVAE PRAWNS THE RAREST DELICACIES PREPARED TO PERFECT ON AND TO THINK THAT THAT OLD FOOL LIVES ALONE IN HIS DREARY TEMPLE WHEN HE COULD LIVE LIKE THIS THAT MIRROR WAS WASTED ON ONE WITHOUT DREAMS TO REALIZE OR DESIRES TO SATISFY..
YOU- LET'S SEE WHAT YOU'VE GOT UNDER THAT KIMONO
TO FULFILL YOUR DREAMS IS MY ONLY PURPOSE MY LORD
I LIKE YOUR ATTITUDE HONEY IN FACT I LIKE EVERYTHING AROUND HERE I CAN HARDLY WAIT TO SEE WHAT I DREAM UP NEXT
YOUR FACE IS A MASK
ANOTHER MASK AND ANOTHER!

YOU'RE ALL WEARING MASKS SMILING PHONY MASKS! LIKE EVERY BROAD I EVER KNEW.
TO FULFILL YOUR DREAMS & OUR ONLY PURPOSE MY LORD.
GUARDS! KILL THEM! KILL THE WHORES
MOVE WHEN I GIVE AN ORDER YOU WORTHLESS SCUM!
MY SAMURAI THEY'RE JUST PAINTED ON THE SCREENS! THEY'RE NOT REAL LIKE EVERYONE I'VE EVER COUNTED ON I'M ALONE! AS I'VE ALWAYS BEEN BUT THERE'LL BE OTHERS A GREAT LORD GETS WHATEVER HE WANTS I'VE STILL GOT MY KINGDOM - MY CASTLE AND MY GOLD!
BONES!

WHAT'S THAT SOUND?
ENEMIES! I'M SURROUNDED BY MY ENEMIES EVERYONE'S AGAINST ME
THEY'LL NEVER GET ME. I CAN HOLD THEM OFF FOREVER IN HERE.
THE SKY-IT'S TEARING OPEN. THE GODS ARE ANGRY- GOBUJO HIMSELF COMES TO PUNISH ME FOR ROBBING THAT PRIEST

WHO I AM AND WHAT I DO

CAN YOU HIDE FROM ME? CAN YOU HIDE FROM YOURSELF?
THAT PRIEST HE DIDN'T WARN ME
DIDN'T HE? DIDN'T HE TELL YOU YOUR DREAMS WOULD BE REALIZED? BUT PERHAPS YOUR DREAMS ARE NOT AS PLACID AS HIS NOW YOU MUST SEE YOUR DREAM THROUGH TO ITS END!
HA!
END.

Heavy Metal Animation Cel Portfolio

Heavy Metal Pencil Animation Portfolio

Heavy Metal Movie Portfolios of Original Art We are proud to announce an exciting new concept for both portfolio collectors and collectors of movie memorabilia. The fantasy animation movie Heavy Metal is the result of a huge collaboration of creative talents including over seventy animators from seven different countries. There are eight segments in the finished film, each introduced by a feature in the magazine. The portfolios consist of one original hand painted animation cel from each segment. The cels have been carefully selected; they are all prime cels showing full figures or head and shoulder shots. There are no "inbetween" cels. Each cel will be enhanced with a special mounting and a pair of this limited edition of 900 portfolios. Original animation cels are highly collectable and it is not unusual to see a single cel going for more than the entire cost of a portfolio.

The eight segments of the film are stories within themselves. "Soft Landing" is the opening sequence which evolves into the Taarna story that is the key bridge between segments, the first of which is Richard Corben's "Den." This is Corben's long awaited return from "Heavy Metal" and the animators have gone to great lengths to translate Corben's unique graphics into an animated format. We are then treated to the farmer's outer space adventures of "Captain Sharky," faithfully animated from Bernie Wrightson's classic "Metal" story of the same name. Chapter B, which is billed as the first true FC style horror story to be animated, is based on the art of Mike Ploog, who needs no introduction to comic or animation geeks. The next feature is "So Beautiful and So Dangerous," which combines illustrator Angus McBride's intensely detailed backgrounds with a couple of sweet and clumsy inspired space rockers. Cinemeca's Harry Canyon is a mind-bending trip through New York circa 2020. The finale of the film is the 23 minute "Taarna" sequence. This is a sequence that could only be animated full of wild beasties and impossible events.

We've been given a lifetime chance to own an original frame from the movie. The package measures 9" x 12" the majority of the cels are approximately 9" x 12". The portfolio is packaged in a full color numbered folder. Notarized are the same. The outstanding package will now be with the new release date for the film. $70.00

Heavy Metal Movie Original Pencil Art Portfolio This portfolio is a companion piece to the above mentioned cel portfolio. During the animation process, the artists produce a large number of pencil drawings as a guideline for the cels. We have compiled portfolios of an original pencil drawing from each of the eight segments. The pencil drawings are designed to capture the character and quality of motion. Each of the drawings is original and done expressly for the film. Packaged in a handsome illustrated folder featuring a never before seen drawing of Taarna as the cel portfolio, features the limited edition number of only 900 numbered copies. 125.00

THE BOOK OF MOEBIUS

"Möbius strip /mœ(r)b-ē-əs/ A one-sided surface that can be formed from a rectangular strip by rotating one end 180° and attaching it to the other end."

[illegible] A wondrousness of fantastic images, spectacularly colored and one's reading pleasure.

Heavy Metal is proud to present an extravaganza of Moebius material never before published in the States. With eighty pages of full color this collector's item is bound to delight anyone with a love for fantasy, science fiction, adventure, the absurd, and sex and occasionally the absurd sex.

The fabulous anthology begins with a forty-four-page collaboration between Moebius and his noted film director Alexandro Jodorowsky of El Topo fame. The story, The Incal, follows the intrigue and espionage surrounding a top secret weapon called the Incal.

Afterwards Moebius displays all his fantastic humor in a series of stories where he and his friends are the victims of some real oddballs.

We also witness the beginning of Wounded Knee and the rise of the Grand Hotel out of the wall of cheese where he hangs out. Are ghosts and aliens involved? Probably.

Plus a gallery of new paintings, a variety of special features by his admirers and a seven-page display of his work as a graphic artist. All in all a treasure trove of fantastic French science fiction and Western visual [illegible] craftsmanship.

Introduced by Federico Fellini, the man who inspired Moebius to begin his career, it is an adventure before unattempted. An Arrow of Archers.

So get up off your chair for yourself and a couple of friends and [illegible] this astounding book. You won't be disappointed. The people at the Moebius theatre don't go for anybody who's looking for a free ride.

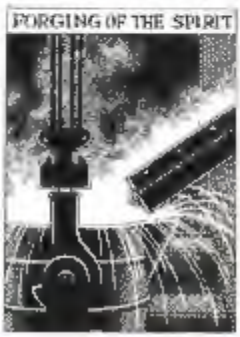
BELIEFS REGARDING DEATH AND THE AFTERLIFE



COMING NEXT ISSUE...

A look into the future

In the January issue we do just that. HM will devote a section (sorta like a magazine within a magazine) to wishing you all a "Happy Future!" In it, a group of the French artists will illustrate odd projections, including — but could it be? — the man of the future; what we will look like in years to come. Oh, it's frightening. Brad Balfour interviews some of notables on what they see ahead. Robert Silverberg, Robert Sheckley, and Greg Benford are but a few of the men who speak out.

Plus, the continuations of Corben's "Den II," Segrelles's "The Mercenary" (will he get the girl in the end, or what?), and Schuiten's "At the Middle of Cymbiola." Sternbach's "Outland" will conclude. Honest.
